Dear Customer,

We thank you for your inquiries regarding a material safety data sheet for products of the BIC group.

Razors, writing instruments and stationery products such as erasers, glues and correction tapes are not dangerous substances or dangerous preparations but consumer products. Material safety data sheets are not designed for those products. Consumer products are exempted from material safety data sheets requirements, as they are not in the scope of European directives 88/379/CEE and 91/155/CEE.

We stay at your disposal, should you need specific information on those products.

Yours sincerely,

Christine DESBOIS
